The Boy

Dudley Jones was elected the most typical senior boy of Whiting High School. He is active in sports and in athletic associations, is serious about school work, and very proud of his "W" sweater. Likes movies, radio, and reading.

The Girl

Noreen Buckley was chosen as the most typical girl. She likes girl's sports, is an enthusiastic football and basketball fan, thinks the football field the best in the state, and wishes we had a new gym. She likes swing music, rust nail polish, and detective stories.

Boy Meets Girl

At the Polls . . .

EVER hear the story of the typical senior? We don't mean the typical senior of just any school. We're thinking now of the "gay young Lochinvars" and "glamorous Ellens" of 1939 who "trucked on down" through the halls of Whiting High. They were the irrepressible practical jokers who studied conscientiously to become kings of the swingaroos and queens of the jitterbugs. Their lively retorts and clever antics were ever a source of illumination to brighten the dull moments which invariably appeared in the school-day lives of their teachers. . . . Noreen Buckley and Dudley Jones, typical senior girl and boy, pictured throughout this book, were typical models of 146 graduated seniors.

Consider, for instance, appearance! Your eyes tell you at a glance that never before have Beer jackets, snazzy socks, and saddle shoes, been so brilliantly combined. The boys in their baggy shirts with the "potato sack" fit and the girls who enhanced their beauty with "kitten-fluffs" and shaggy "page boys" deserved the "orchids" in pulchritude.

Personality-plus best describes the typical senior. A pleasant smile and a cheery "Hi, there," greeted the underclassmen as well as the fellowclassman. They knew when to smile, when to look sad, how to look innocent, and never to look guilty. Their ability to stand firmly on two feet, open minded, willing to be convinced, criticised or complimented, helped make them the outstanding characters they were —

Not only the apples of their mother's eye
But rather like an apple pie —
A lot of crust and full of applesauce.

Education was cherished by all. . . . The typical seniors realized that they must be well informed when they stepped out on their own responsibility to "lick the world," and establish a career. Not a stone was left unturned in ferreting out the subjects most desired for their individual needs. They combined a general and commercial course in order to help themselves meet the obligations of an ever changing world, the fair sex adding to theirs a course in the culinary arts. Both studied industriously and did their work well in an endeavor to be chosen for membership in the National Honor Society, an honor esteemed by all. . . . After long and tedious hours in classrooms and laboratories they found, much to their surprise, that Rex Beach is an author and not a summer resort.

Travel is an item not to be overlooked in the life of a typical senior. It was not all done in books, or the family car. While some "hoofed it" about others owned their own "jolopies." A thing not to be snickered at — No matter if its fenders flopped frantically, its engine chugged nervously, and its radiator leaked languidly; its wheels revolved fervently and it went! And sometimes even west, as far as Chicago, famous for its museums, art galleries, planetarium and aquarium, and right on by to dinner at the dime store and a down town theater.

Habits formed by the typical seniors were an essential part of their lives. The big he-men that they were, garbed in their athletic W's, enjoyed a hot bowl of chili and crackers after a strenuous game on the gridiron or hardwood court, while the "petite femmes" gargled a "coke" for the pause that refreshes, after a "lung session" in the cheering section.

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can keep your head
when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming
it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

and not make dreams your master;
and not make thoughts your aim;
Triumph and Disaster are impostors just the same;
the truth you've spoken
make a trap for fools, gave your life to, broken,
'em up with worn-out tools;

IV

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings — nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And — which is more — you'll be a Man,
my son!

Senior Class History

OUR long years ago, in the fall of 1935, a great event occurred in the lives of some 150 young students. It was then we were enrolled as freshmen in the Whiting High School. Not unlike other classes of "freshies" who had passed before us, we finally emerged from the hub-bub with our precious schedules, afraid to admit having a "conflict" for fear of being sent to the school nurse. Eventually the fog lifted and with the help and guidance of Mr. George Burman, our freshman adviser, we were able to see more clearly. Alex Parsanko was elected class president; Pauline Howerton, vice president; Mary Evanich, secretary; and Vivian McCarthy, treasurer. We made our debut in school activities by presenting "The Princess and the Swineherd" on November 20, 1935. Our outstanding social function was the freshmen reception.

We entered our sophomore year with just a little more self-confidence and understanding. Steve Kopcha, Noreen Buckley, Rosemary Hornett, and Mary Evanich were our class officers this year. "School spirit" now began to trickle through our veins and as a whole, the class became staunch defenders of the Green and White. Our main activity was the successful presentation of the class play, "Life Begins at Sixteen."

Thoroughly "oiled and lubricated" in school decorum and curriculum, we approached our junior year with a full-grown feeling of importance. The principal's office was no longer regarded as a "wolf's den," but a place where one could find solace from all perplexing difficulties. The class play, "Here Comes the Prince," presented May 18, 1938, proved that we had talent and could use it. The traditional junior prom was the traditional success. Leading the class as officers were Bill Jones, president; Dudley Jones, vice-president; Mary Evanich, secretary; and Tom Sanders, treasurer.

We entered our senior year with a feeling of regret that it would soon be over. All too soon came the final activities — the senior class play, "Blackberry Winter" on December 5, closely followed by the frivolous senior party, memorable junior prom, hilarious Bum's Day, gay Class Night, and at long last — heart-touching Commencement. This year our officers were Eudell Paul, president; Robert Ruman, vice-president; Mary Evanich, secretary; and Steve Hruskocy, treasurer.

To Mr. B. J. Vesely, our senior high school adviser, we are truly indebted. His sincere guidance and sympathetic attitude will never be forgotten. The influence of our teachers will go with us through the remaining years of our lives.

Gambini's and the Shop were a haven of delight to the overtaxed seniors, and a place where they were always welcome — if they had a dime . . . The reading habits of the typical senior deserve mention because it was not unusual for a study hall teacher to remove, from behind a chemistry notebook, "Doc Savage," or a "Western Dime Novel," or spy the latest edition of "Vogue" or a motion picture magazine slipping unintentionally from the locker of some fair damsel. Nor had the seniors outgrown their childish humor for they still enjoyed the "funnies," "Smilin' Jack," "Dick Tracy," and "Flash Gordon" — Kay Kyser and Bob Hope were the favorite radio stars. The typical senior was quick to acquire the latest modes and was ever alert for something new and different. The girls indulged in all the modern methods of make-up. The favorite nail polish used was rust, Kiss-proof lip-stick, and "Stick-on" powder . . . The male specie was never without his hair oil and Sen-Sens. And last but not least, that boon to energy — the delight of a typical senior, the dread of every teacher — Chewing Gum.

Sociability played an important part in the make-up of the typical seniors. They were good mixers, eager to take part in all school activities. They were all around girls and boys, and the same effort put forth in their studies was displayed in their social endeavors. They attended school dances, plays, concerts, and sports, and had membership in at least three school clubs.

The junior-senior prom was always anticipated with much enthusiasm by the typical senior. Yolandas in flimsy formals tripped gracefully about over the feet of their dashing

Never A

Veloze shod with a shine that even Dupont would envy . . . Their adeptness to any situation demanded their presence at all school functions. They knew that they were the center of attraction, hence their every action was for the benefit of underclassmen who watched the "big boys" perform, envied their glory and then went off by themselves to practice what they had seen . . . A group of happy-go-lucky students who were always willing to go to extremes for entertainment, but never found guilty of losing their traditional "dignity."

The outlook on life maintained by the typical seniors proves satisfactorily to the most critical that they had put away childish things and donned the cloak of adulthood eagerly and with an understanding comparable only to the best. They were filled with that restlessness so characteristic of true Americans. They felt that so far the world had played fair with them and they were anxious to retaliate with what little help they could contribute. At the time of their graduation the universe so full of distress, seething with wars and power seeking dictators, did much to emphasize their great fortune, to be living in America. They had learned through books and the experience of others that a living was not handed out on a silver platter, but that it had to be sought.

So, the typical seniors, with diplomas in hand stood upon the threshold of a new life, confronted with a vital problem, a great decision to make, —

Shall I join the army or the navy, or buy a monkey and a grind organ?

Biology Club

Behold the bug and worm doctors! They meet after school to squint through the microscope or through the field glasses, to investigate the private life of a microbe, and build romances about the worm.

Members of the Biology Club fall into one of six guilds. One group carves up specimens to see what makes the wheels go round; another's business is collecting frogs, fish, and crawling things; future caretakers of humanity are found in the third guild which studies diseases. The microscope is used in research by a fourth group, and a fifth corresponds with bug departments of other schools. The last guild offers exceptional inducements in the way of training its members to distinguish between the hickory and the maple; of avoiding the embarrassing mistake of calling the Doryphora decemlineata a potato bug on one of its numerous field trips. Mr. Winterringer sponsors the club.

Current officers are Steve Sramek, Steve Hruskocy, Emil O'Drobinak, and Mary Gurchik.

Patrol Club

Many a student has looked up questioningly to see a boy tiptoe out of the study hall or a class about five minutes before the dismissal bell. No, he was not trying to slip out on the teacher, he was merely one of the many patrolmen going to his post either at noon or after school hours.

This little group is readily recognized for its effective job of promoting street traffic safety among school children.

The patrol has a captain, two lieutenants and patrolmen. Under the supervision of Mr. O. M. Merriman, each patrolman is assigned to a station or a post to protect the students in crossing the streets.

Serving as captain for the second consecutive year was John Bukvich. Lieutenants were Paul Kasper and Edward Dobrowalski.

Art Club

"There's an Art Club meeting after school." So down the hall trot the future Rembrandts and da Vincis, well anyway, Walt Disneys.

The Art Club meets bi-monthly, in the spacious new art room, under the direction of Miss Florence Keve. The meetings are of a varied nature, entertaining or cultural. Craft meetings are frequent, whereby students have an opportunity to unfold any unusual talents they may possess. A star feature at one of the gatherings was a speaker from Gordon's advertising staff who spoke on art as a vocation.

The "Artists' Ball" was held the earlier part of May. Officers were John Martich, president; Mary Cech, vice-president; Madeline Cech, secretary; and Joe Dernay, Treasurer.

Girls' Glee Club

The time — any day, first, second and fourth periods.

The setting — chorus room in the junior high building.

Picture a group of prim prima donnas melodiously keeping time with the swaying baton of Mr. Calder's. Suddenly amid these lilting strains a jarring note strikes the sensitive ear of the director whose countenance betrays his thoughts. But a discord, we are led to believe, is a rare occurrence. (?)

Choral practice is steadily increasing its popularity according to the over enrollment. The students are hereby acquainted with and learn to appreciate the better selections in music.

The mixed chorus groups (boys and girls) have been featured on several assemblies and other school activities. Credit is due Mr. George Calder, music instructor.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club this year, as in all previous years, is bigger and better than ever before. This great number of untamed voices, held in captivity, at times grows violent and roars loud and long about birds and bees, moons and sunsets. Mr. Calder administers the inspiration and takes the blame for these occasions. No one openly accuses them of singing.

Seriously, the Glee Club is a splendid group of boys doing an excellent bit of musical work. Their appearance in a choral assembly is always applauded enthusiastically, and their help in producing "Good King Wenceslaus" was greatly appreciated. Together with the Girls' Glee Club, they take a very active part in school programs.

Monitors

Miss Shea's is the sturdy band of sentinels, the Monitors, unsung heroes of the lower corridor, who patrol the halls during class sessions to guard against invasion and to maintain order, who pleasantly accost students entering or leaving the building with the familiar "Slips please," and who in the line of duty, cheerfully conduct visitors about the building.

Friendly, cheerful, courteous, of good character, and outstanding scholastic ability, the Monitors comprise a smooth working, efficient, and popular unit. Every period in every day will find a monitor at each of the main entrances, sitting stoically and studiously on duty.

Camera Club

"Smile pretty — thank you." This is the usual procedure of any camera fan. Do you want to learn the unusual procedure? Join the Camera Club! Camera Club members are usually in the dark when the question of photography arises. Mr. B. J. Vesely, expert welder of the camera, sponsors this organization.

These camera fans are earnestly interested in furthering their study in the art of photography either as a hobby, or in the hope of some day promoting a vocation out of the hobby.

The Camera Club introduces to amateurs the preliminary steps of photography, such as facts about the camera, its use, exposures, and developing and enlarging prints.

"W" Club

What is more striking than a man displaying a letter? (A man in uniform!) Striking figures, these athletic men, but what is the story behind that letter? Each athlete feels a glow of pride at the thought of having earned the much coveted emblem. Has the envious observer stopped to consider the numerous hours spent on the gridiron? long, tedious hours which were slighted merely because the satisfaction following any accomplishment would compensate for previous discouragements?

The annual dance was held on April 14, with one of the largest turn-outs of the year. Elected as officers for this year were Tom Sanders, president; Bob Ruman, vice president; and Cecil Miller, secretary-treasurer.

Theatre Board

Players may strut and players may fret their hour upon the stage, but behind each high school theatrical, however uncalled for, is a tale of countless hours spent on tedious backstage drudgery, work of the Theatre Board.

No less than twenty departments, each with a task no less difficult than the hardest, perform the tedious routines of costuming, makeup, staging, lighting, displays and scenery, auditioning, and business. Every successful production is due largely to Theatre Board management. This year the group presented such hits as "Imaginary Invalid," a matinee; the colorful junior high "Robin Hood;" "Mystery in Hollywood," assembly; senior class play, "Blackberry Winter;" Christmas pageant, "Good King Wenceslaus," all school production; "The Inn of Return," which was given excellent rating at the Speech Arts Festival in Terre Haute; "The Show Up," a matinee; "Seven Sisters" by the junior class, one of the best; and "Idlings of a King," a burlesque.

The annual Kick Off dance by the Theatre Board pried the lid off the social season. Ordeal initiations for new members were held in the fall, and again in the spring, introducing a new method of accepting members. Kenneth Dalton, John Luptak, Roy Cobb served as co-production managers during the year. Mr. Turner is the director.

Philharmonia

Was Nero's preference for Chopin or Wagner when rendering his famous violin obligato? A meeting never fails to arouse a diversity of opinions. For this is the Philharmonia, studying the cultural aspects of music. The club stands as an influential group in developing music appreciation and nothing less than long haired virtuosos.

Surviving a year in the Philharmonia, a student is thoroughly schooled in the lives and works of renowned composers. Mr. Lesinsky, adviser, at times may dust off his leather-lunged victrola to illustrate a finer point he is trying to make.

The group has none the less its lighter side. Its annual initiation for new members was staged on December 9, with the usual hilarity accompanying. The group saw the opera "Barber of Seville" in December. Janice Rhea is the club's president; Helen Baloff, vice president; and Milan Yancich, secretary-treasurer.

Tattler

The success of the "Tattler," most widely read newspaper in the school, is due to a competent staff, working harmoniously together, and coordination between the journalism department under Mr. Borden Purcell, and the print shop, supervised by Mr. B. J. Vesely. The paper is published every two weeks, and contains four pages packed with news of school activities.

Reflector

Fingers sticky, and besmeared with glue, rewritten copy, mounted pictures, a typewriter clicking busily, people arguing over cover designs, color schemes, and arrangements of articles. This is an inside view of the stages in the production of our annual—the Reflector.

This year the staff has attempted to portray an interesting picture of typical every day life of a high school student. Did we?

Latin Club

If Brutus had not, Latin II students would have — and do. Caesar is dead, but the malady lingers on. Nobly does Latin fulfill its function, furnishing a means for completely befuddling the minds of simple high school students. This it does consistently, if not conscientiously. As nobly does the Latin Club perform its functions, merely relieving the resulting mental strain through the media of fun and frolic.

Over the bi-monthly class meetings Latin counsels, Alma St. Clair, Eugene Meisner, Dorothy Esamil, and Richard Bramer, and Latin quaestors, Norene Adams and Ed Nyland, preside. A light program of Latin songs, stories, playlets, and bits of Latin dialogue is presented. Latin games, jokes and conversation provide amusement. Miss Wilhelm is responsible for this attractive procedure. Guaranteed American pure food refreshments close the meeting.

French Club

"Parlez vous Francais?" If so, you are a full fledged French student — if you can only say "oui" with the proper accent, you're still a marvel.

This informal organization is supervised by Miss Laura Linden, who staunchly believes that French must be spoken at any available opportunity to instill "zee propaire accent." "Le Circle Francais" agrees heartily, and is ready to cooperate with its best second-hand French.

Excitement prevails when a long-awaited letter comes from a new French correspondent. The exchange of correspondence has proved a valuable asset towards stimulating interest. The meetings, which are held irregularly, feature French songs and stories and games; most popular was the bargain candy sale at the adjournment of one of the meetings.

Twice a group of inspired French students, accompanied by Miss Linden, journeyed down to the International House at the University of Chicago and witnessed two French movies.

Presiding officers were Andrew Vasilovcik, president; John Bukvich, vice president; Marie Herakovich, secretary; Paul Kasper, treasurer.

Red Peppers Club

Make way to introduce the Red Peppers Club. A curious name for an organization? On the contrary, it is ideally suited to these "rarin' to go" freshmen.

Although the Red Peppers Club is not a newly organized group, it has its premier appearance in the Reflector. Membership is restricted to freshmen who are chosen by the faculty on the basis of school spirit and promise of leadership.

Advised by Miss Ane Marie Petersen, the Pep Club has long taken its place among most active clubs. In addition to its novel initiation party, its other activities for the year included a skating party, a picnic, and its annual dance.

The officers for 1938-39 were president, George Kochis; vice-president, Nora Driscoll; secretary, Betty Kecklich; treasurer, George Herochik.

Science Club

We all know that our civilization depends largely on applied science, thus we introduce the future scientists who promise to enlighten and show us the kind of world we are living in.

Although this organization is not very active socially it holds its regular bi-monthly meetings featuring various experiments, reports and discussions by the members.

Those possessing a still greater fascination of a scientist's work may often be found tinkering around in the chemistry laboratory after school hours . . . Who knows, perhaps a new substance or principle may be discovered, or the brooding possibility of a "new planet swimming into his ken" someday.

Serving as officers were Edward McNeil, president; Irene Vargo, vice president; Mary Cech, secretary-treasurer.

Student Council

Every school enterprise that has for its object a better W. H. S. finds its most loyal supporters in the Student Council. To these 20 serious minded young men and women is given the task of initiating and executing policies concerning care of school property, social gatherings, and similar matters. Vested in them is the trust to insure the peace, dignity and respect of our school.

Membership includes class presidents and representatives, and representatives from home rooms. The group meets with Principal L. C. Grubb to discuss matters of mutual interest. The scope of the group's activities extends from controlling student activities to sponsoring nickel after-school dances. Rosemary Hornett is president; Rudy Kovacich, vice president; Stanley Bazarko, secretary, and Steve Hruskocy, treasurer.

National Honor Society

Scholars having sustained four years of burning midnight oil to grapple with teachers' pet brain teasers, and have in doing so retained appreciable amounts of scholarship, leadership, character, and service may be well proud of their membership in the National Honor Society.

For four years these students have been the leaders of their class and have upheld traditions of high scholastic achievements. Full worthy are they of an honor second to none in their high school course.

Faculty members vote on membership. The group meets to carry on necessary business of the unit, only an integral part of the club which is nationwide in scope. In many instances, a National Honor Society pin is a letter of introduction, and the club stimulates excellence in high school work.

Scholarship "W" Club

One of the most strived for memberships in any organization is offered by the Scholarship "W" Club. It is merited by those who average at least a B, and no grade lower than a C throughout a school year. Although the Club elects no officers, nor requests the payment of dues, it is a basis for stimulating greater effort for study on the part of the students. Four circular emblems, about 2½ inches in diameter are offered, one each year, with a slight variation in design distinguishing each award.

The first "W" is green with a white background, and the second, white with a green background. The third "W" is green with a white background bordered with green; the fourth award is a white "W" having a green background with a white border.

Recipients of four scholarship emblems are awarded a gold "W" on their diplomas.

Triple Trio

Nine winsome warblers in gay green guise, the Triple Trio represents an evident proof that music has charms, to the eye and to the ear. Mindful of the fact that a musical voice is a divine gift, Mr. Calder, vocal instructor, drills and trills the girls to secure harmony, expression, and beauty of tone, and to produce something that won't sound like Boola Boola.

This group is the traditional "cream of the crop," and has long been an institution in the school. The three first and second sopranos and altos are respectively, Eloise Rhie, Rosemary Gainer, Janeace Campbell, Lillian Pollock, Louise Baloff, Verda McTague, Joyce Tharp, Nina Shocaroff, and Rose Dudas.

At Christmas time, the girls entertained with carols for Whiting and Hammond merchants. They also sang for the American Legion's mid-winter meeting and at the Methodist Church.

Engineering Club

What ho, always on the go? Indeed the Engineering Club does not remain inactive for any length of time. This year the group decided to see what prodigious sights exist in our windy city, Chicago.

The trip was a combination pleasure-educational journey and included such noted spots as the Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium, Tribune Tower and a tour through the WGN studios.

Touring the studios gave the boys an opportunity to inspect the radio engineering equipment.

Mr. W. P. Buerckholtz, machine shop instructor and sponsor of the Engineering Club, made arrangements for speakers familiar with the many different phases of engineering to address the club during the year.

Girls' Sports

Awards are given on the basis of participation in a certain number of sport seasons as follows:

2 seasons	G. A. C. Emblem
5 seasons	Pin
8 seasons	Block "W"
12 seasons	Pillow

A girl earning 17 seasons, who participates at least once in all sports offered, and who acts as a manager for one season, is awarded a cup at commencement. Credit is given for only four sports per year regardless of the number in which a girl participates. In this way a girl who is interested in other extra-curricular activities may earn awards on an equal basis with the so-called "Athletic Girl."

All girls who enter a sport participate in the tournament at the end of the season regardless of their ability.

At the end of every sport season, girls who display good sportsmanship, alertness, and fair play are chosen for the "All-Star Team."

"It's bound to be a flop, according to the ticket sale!"

"I just sold one — to myself."

Yes, the object of numerous conversations was the senior play, "Blackberry Winter." The ticket sale had slacked; several members of the faculty, brusquely announced their disgust at the lack of interest on the part of the seniors, while the latter, displaying ambiguous contempances, decided that something had to be done. What happened? No one exactly knows, but on the night of December 5, 1938, the Junior High auditorium seated a well-turned-out audience to witness one of the best senior plays.

"Cute" Dolores Lauer with her hill-billyish antics and "I'm in love with rest" Gus Penciak accounted for the many laughs. Edward McNeil proved that "he didn't go in for that stuff" by keeping at a distance from Janice in their, ahem, sentimental scenes.

Each year a senior, who most sincerely and capably portrays his character in the senior play, is awarded an inscription of his name on a silver cup. The judges selected Gus Penciak from this year's competent cast. Last year Mary Snapp was thus honored.

Mr. Kenneth W. Turner directed, what was acclaimed, a very successful play.

Prince meets girl — Girl has money. Prince almost gets girl, or is it money, but — from there on the fun reaches lofty proportions.

Ruth Dobbertin decides that being a Prince must be grand fun, so she determines to do a bit of masquerading while John Luptak, on the other hand, is forced to take on a girl's disguise. Sound screwy? Well, it was, nevertheless, a most delectable dish of spicy humor, continually bubbling with excitement.

The constant threat of Johnnie's blonde wig coming off, and his faltering falsetto had the audience in stitches; while Marge Hutira in her endeavor to portray a perfect Granny sometimes forgot her screechy soprano in all the excitement.

"Rhody" Hornett seemed very bored with the whole thing — rehearsals every day for weeks merely to utter those memorable words, "Yes, mother" about half a dozen times.

The play given on May 18, 1938, was such a howling triumph that Mr. Kenneth W. Turner, director, was obliged to present a matinee to a full house of anxious students who had missed the first performance.

Season's Story

Replacement of eleven seniors, eight of whom were regulars, lost through graduation, was the situation that confronted Coach Gallivan when he issued the call for football in the middle of last August.

However, he did have six lettermen coming back in Captain Bill Jones, and Eudell Paul, ends; Steve Kopcha, tackle; and backs, Tom Sanders, Pete Janik and Rudy Kovacich; consequently, he had to fill in green material at one tackle, both guards, center, and one back.

By the time the Oilers began their season against Mr. Carmel, the so-called "green horns" had come through in such fine style that for onde in his coaching career Coach felt that when he substituted a player, he wasn't afraid of putting in a "weak sister."

Whiting's 19-0 victory over Mt. Carmel marked the debut of Mr. Arvo Antilla as line coach. After the green and white beat Mr. Carmel, the Chicago team went ahead to annex the Catholic League title of Chicago.

Playing heads up ball, the Gallivan squad traveled downstate and beat the cream of the crop of Southern Indiana, the Sullivan Golden Arrows, 20-0. This was Coach Spike Kelly's lads, winners of the Wabash Valley Conference and who laid claims to state honors, first setback in thirteen starts.

Hammond Tech's Tigers put up a tough battle, but the Oiler tide proved too much as they bowed their heads, 31-0.

Rudy Kovacich's two touchdowns, Tom Sanders' six points, and Harold Richards' point after touchdown put the game on ice for the green and white as Roosevelt of East Chicago, then leading the conference race, slipped, 19-0.

Whiting's 40-6 win over the Horsemen of Horace Mann was the first time in the history of the two team's gridiron activities that either one has been able to win by such a wide margin. Robinson, junior quarterback of the Mann eleven, was the first lad to cross the Oiler goal line.

"Oiler Boosters Invade East Chicago Tonight," screamed the headlines. But something happened and for the first time in six starts the boys felt the bitter taste of defeat, 14-0, at the hands of the Washington Senators. A crowd of 10,000 people saw the game.

Hammond, an age old jinx, and who has a habit of knocking Whiting out of first place honors, did it again. They caught the Oilers on the down-beat and emerged victorious by a 13-0 count.

The hapless Lew Wallace Hornets provided the next opposition. The Gallivan men hit the comeback trail and stung the Hornets, 25-0.

At last came the long awaited tilt with Clark. Again the Oiler powerhouse completely disregarded the Pioneer's patented, pocket parable, "Wait till next year," and for the fifth consecutive time since becoming a high school, the boys from across the Atchison Avenue line fell, 26-0. This brought the curtain down on the successful season.

Whiting finished in a tie for third place with Hammond in the Western Division of the Northern Indiana High School Conference.

Basketball

Brilliant play in the sectional tourney at East Chicago as the Whiting Oilers ploughed through a tough draw to lose to Hammond in the final game climaxed a good season under Coach Jim Adams. The team won ten and lost twelve games during the year.

Coach Jim Adams' cagers were the aggressors when they inaugurated the season against the Hornets of Lew Wallace but the Hornets had a little too much on the ball and sent the boys back home with a two point deficit, 25-23.

Tech of Hammond was the first home game of the year. When the final score was tallied, Whiting lagged behind, 39-31.

A short story — Clark and Whiting renew their strife — Tobias forgets to report to the officials — a technical foul is called — Buerckholtz, Clark center, ties up the fracas — his teammate Santary is hacked by Miller — score: Clark, 25 — Whiting, 24.

Whiting was outscored in only one quarter of their tilt with the Emerson Norsemen, winners of the conference, but dropped the contest by a one-sided score of 39-25. The green and white finally reached in for their bag of tricks and pulled out of the fire a 33-31 decision, at the expense of the Rough Riders.

of Roosevelt on the Riders' home court. Richards and Ruman led the Oilers scoring attack, each netting 31 points.

This time Lew Wallace came to battle the Oilers crew on the home grounds. It's in the bag! It's in the bag! Saturated the crowd as the Oilers led by 12 points 36-24, with four minutes remaining. Komenich, giant 6 feet 5 inch center, and Art Carroll of the Gary outfit swung their artillery into action, and when the four minutes were up, Whiting was out in the cold 40-38.

Time out for a two weeks' rest period and time out to make a few New Year's resolutions.

Ring out the old and ring in the new year. Whiting did exactly this as two East Chicago teams felt their anger. Roosevelt was the first victim, 24-21. In one of the greatest displays of a comeback yet seen on the Solon floor, Coach Adams' warriors came from behind and overtook the Senators, 27-23.

Wildcats and Oilers — Hammond's Cats, long an age old menace came over and the teams had a tete-a-tete. What Hammond served on their menu was Sterling Scott, 6 feet 8 inches, Clarence Hasse, 6 feet 2 inches, and Wally Ziemba, 6 feet 1 inch. Our boys put up a valiant fight, but Hammond won, 42-35.

To vent their wrath the Oilers took after the Valparaiso Vikings and chased them off the court by a 35-27 count. Ruman's brilliant ball playing netted him five buckets, and seven one-pointers, in all, 17 points. Jones counted himself in and hit for 14 points. Together the fellas registered 28 markers, or one mark more than the whole Valpo aggregation.

Horace Mann, after their fresh 33-30 triumph over the Frankfort Hot Dogs, the state champs, met the team on our floor and Whiting added their scalps to the trophies of the chase, 32-30. With the expiring of the regulation time the count was knotted, 30-30. Free throws by Tuskan and Richards put the game on ice.

Whiting travelled over to the Hammond Civic Center over the week-end and came back with two immortals received from the boys of Hammond High and Hammond Tech. Hammond High 41, Whiting 30. Tech 38-Whiting 19.

That jinx that the Washington Senators used to have over Whiting by way of basketball seemed to be broken as the Oilers downed the Solons, 28-26 for the second time this season. Washington has not won a basketball game from the green and white during the past two years.

The following night the boys crossed the Atchison Avenue line and pitted their ball jamming against that of the Pioneers only to be turned back by Clark 36-29. Now the feud with the Pioneers has reached a new high as each team has won six games since all this started back in 1934 when Clark became a high school.

The season was fast drawing to a close when the green and white lost a 26-19 battle to the Vikings of Valparaiso on the Valpo floor.

For the first time in many a moon, the Oilers met a Chicago basketball team on our own floor — this team being the Hyde Park cagers who were leading the South Side of Chicago Public School League. Chicago used a strong zone defense. But our fast stepping forwards, Ruman and Jones, found loopholes and swished in 24 points.

Starting the scheduled season with a defeat and ending it with a defeat was accredited the Adamsmen when they were nosed out by Froebel, 28-26, on the Gary court.

Approximately 5,000 loyal basketball fans from all parts of the Calumet district were present when the Sectional Tourney got under way in the spacious Roosevelt gym in East Chicago, March 2, 3, and 4. Whiting had the toughest schedule of any team in the tourney.

Go Whiting Go! Go Whiting Go! Smash 'em, Bust 'em, that's our custom! Go Whiting Go! and the Oilers did go. They went to the finals of the tournament and upheld their reputation as the team to beat in the tourney only to lose in the final game to their dreaded rivals, the Wildcats of Hammond High, 31-27.

Whiting drew the Hobart Brickies in their first game and bumped the Brickies aside, 36-21. Roosevelt was next to fall, 38-37. At one time during the fray, Coach Adams' lads had the Riders 18-1.

As one would have it, the Oilers next foe was the Pioneers of Clark. The Robertsdale quintet, confident of a victory, found it to be a different story as a bucket by Ruman in the last 10 seconds of the ball game put Whiting on the right side of the score, 29-27. Now the count with Clark is Whiting seven and G. R. C. six.

When the final reading of the tourney was published, it was found that one of our own boys, Dudley Jones, ran off with the high scoring honors of the whole tournament, accounting for 46 points.

Calendar

- September 6 School opens officially.
7 We hold our first pep meeting of the year to the tune of songs, cheers, and more cheers.
26 Dignified seniors held a political meeting and Eudell Paul is chosen president.
27 Juniors elect Mary Hruskocy, a charming little miss, as their president.
- October 1 The Theatre Board starts things rolling by giving the first dance of the social season.
3 Vivian McCarthy and Rosemary Hornett were appointed editors-in-chief of the Reflector. Good Luck!
5 Seniors dress up in their Sunday best to have their pictures taken.
7 First Tattler published making students' private affairs public.
18 Miss Shea appoints monitors.
22 The Band and Orchestra add spice to a student's life by giving the "Harvest Hop," with doughnuts and cider thrown in for good measure.
- November 2 Edward McNeil receives the presidency of the Science Club to keep the mad scientists under control.
4 Students are vaccinated against small pox.
7 Hon. Fred Bale, Judge of Cleveland Juvenile Court, spoke to the students on effects of alcohol with regard to juvenile delinquency.
14 Typical senior balloting begins today. Who will the boy and girl be???
15 Report cards issued as a warning to do better the next three quarters.
21 Had a real treat today. Dewi Jones, talented Welsh boy singer, presented a program of vocal numbers.
22 Our most typical seniors, who are they? Why Noreen Buckley and Dudley Jones, of course, according to the votes of the students.
29 Tuberculin tests given to all seniors and athletes.
- December 5 The cast of the Senior play "Blackberry Winter" gave an excellent performance.
9 Augustine Penciak receives a trophy for giving the best performance in the Senior play.
10 Something must have gone wrong. Lost to Clark 24-23.
13 Our Christmas Tree was put up in the main hall today. Very attractive with all its lights and trimmings.
15 A few seniors started a petition for more and longer vacations. All students were willing to cooperate.
20 I hear tell our grid heroes took advantage of the free meal at the annual banquet given for them at Phil Smids. They certainly enjoyed themselves!
25 Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you all.
- January 3 We're back again, much to the disappointment of many of the students who are still in the holiday spirit.
9 This is the time of the year when students decide to see how the inside of their books really look. It's exam week.
11 Eudell Paul is awarded the Gold Mental Attitude Trophy for the best mental attitude during the football season of 1938.
13 The Student Council gave a dance and the "Jitterbugs" went "truckin' down."
18 Our Band and Orchestra present the first joint concert of the year.
30 Oh dear! Our lunch hour has been shortened leaving no time for relaxation.
- February 1 No school today. A blizzard keeps us snowbound.
2 Snow or no snow we're back in school. Makes us feel like mountain climbers.
8 Elizabeth Drabik, a sophomore, attended a session of the Indiana Legislature at Indianapolis. This is a part of the educational and civic program for the year sponsored by Whiting Women's Clubs.

- February 3 A one act thriller "The Inn of Return" produced by the Theatre Board caused the shrieks and screams heard from the auditorium. Our amateurs contributed to make the show a success.
- 13 Today Whiting students attended a movie on patriotism and citizenship. It was sponsored by the American Legion, Lion's Club, Boy and Girl Scouts
- 18 The flu epidemic has caused many absentees.
- 21 Sophomore party quite a ga'a affair. Who was the fearless youth who entertained the others with a "chardash"?
- 22 Washington's birthday so we were given a free day. Hooray for Washington!
- 28 Have you already subscribed for your Reflector? Better hurry, today's the deadline.
- March 2 Sectional Basketball Tournament opens at the new Roosevelt Gymnasium at East Chicago.
- 4 In the finals our team played Hammond. You did swell, boys, even though we lost 31-27.
- 6 The Ladies' Ladybrook Chorus of England presented a special program for Whiting students. Very nice.
- 7 Assembly held to honor our basketball team. Business men of Whiting have offered to send our team to the state finals at Indianapolis with all expenses paid. Aren't they lucky!
- 15 Congratulations to the twenty-two seniors chosen for membership in the National Honor Society.
- 22 Dr. A. Lawrence Brown, economist, lectured on the subject of systematic saving.
- 23 Representatives from Indiana University, Purdue, Earlham, and Indiana State Teachers College came to Whiting to give advice and assistance to seniors who plan to go to college next fall.
- April 10 Pep Club sponsors first spring dance. Had a wonderful time.
- 14 The association that makes W. H. S. famous, the "W" Club, present their annual dance.
- 21 G. A. C. annual dance draws a crowd and everyone has a wonderful time.
- 28 'Seven Sisters' put on by the Junior Class is tops and supplies the audience with plenty of laughs.
- 29 Our own Senior Dance. We all had a grand time.
- May 5 The Art Club dance was quite a success.
- 24 Seniors put their dignity behind them and befit themselves to Bum's Day.
- 26 The long awaited event, the Junior Prom. So much fun we hated to leave.
- 29 Class Night — the night we'll always remember with its smiles, gifts, speeches, and songs.
- June 1 Commencement. With tears in our eyes we say good-bye to our Alma Mater.
- Valedictorian Richard Snapp Salutatorian Edward McNeil
 Senior President Eudell Paul
 Commencement Speaker — Dr. Robert Phillips of Purdue University

DANCELAND—

A Name Known
Everywhere

Not only as one of America's Finer Ballrooms because of its select dance orchestras, but because of its prudent manner of operation; its wholesomeness and cleanliness.

Unlike other places to dance, Madura's Danceland is "family operated," thus providing the parents of those who frequent Danceland Ballroom an assuring confidence in the discipline and deportment of the people behind this amusement enterprise.

THERE IS NO FINER EXERCISE THAN DANCING — IT'S EXHILARATINGLY HEALTHFUL
DONATES ALERTNESS AND POISE

In 1792 Mr. Murdock quit Lighting his home by candle light

One night in 1792, Wm. Murdock, a strange man who wore a wooden hat, lighted his home by Gas. The excitement and interest stirred by the incident sounded the death knell of the candle. In a few short years gas light spread over the face of the civilized world. But other more important uses have been discovered for gas. Now over 16,000,000 homes in our nation use Gas for cooking, home heating, water heating or refrigeration. Why? Simply because Gas is low in price, convenient, dependable.
